Introduction

This resource has been designed with the aim of creating positive change in dance education. We aim to enrich and elevate dance education by raising the profile of global majority dance in the sector.

The RIDE Resource was compiled by members of the Decolonising the Dance Curriculum Roundtable group and an open call-out for submissions also took place on social media.

“The lack of diversity in dance has long been contested by artists within the field, trying to break the glass ceiling. The origins and influence of global majority artists and cultures in the teaching of dance history have often been excluded. The Decolonising the Dance Curriculum Roundtable saw leading practitioners from the dance sector come together to discuss a new future - one in which dance is viewed and, most importantly, taught in a more inclusive way and a curriculum that enthusiastically supports all cultures and styles of dance with equal weight.”

We hope that the resulting resource will act as a guide for teachers across the UK, in making the history and future of dance accessible for all. The resource will be updated annually and shared as a wider tool in decolonising the dance curriculum. Students and lovers of dance will be able to engage, contribute, and share as the industry continues to grow and go from strength to strength.”

Monica Ande, Head of Dance at Hampstead School and Roundtable member

This resource showcases global majority dance work through three distinct areas:

- Dance works
- Artists, Workshops and Continued Professional Development (CPD)
- Music list

The aim of the resource is to support teachers and educators to deliver content that is authentic, diverse and inclusive. Teachers will also be able to find global majority artists and companies local to them to support the delivery of dance in their school.

If you are interested in your work being part of the resource or in joining the Roundtable please fill out this form.

We acknowledge that this list is not fully comprehensive and doesn't represent all global majority work in the sector. RIDE is a starting point from which to build on and develop. If your company's work is not shown or you have recommendations, please do get in touch. We would love to hear from you!

*Global majority includes, but is not limited to: artists of African, North African, South Asian, South East Asian, East Asian, Caribbean, Latinx, Middle Eastern, Native American, Native Australian, Pacific Islanders, Roma and Traveller heritage or diaspora, and refers to people who have experienced racism, marginalisation or being 'othered' due to the colour of their skin or ethnicity.

Whilst we use the collective term global majority, we will always try to be specific when talking about individuals and communities and recognise the importance of this.

AFRICAN DIASPORA DANCE ASSOCIATION (ADDA)

LONDON

SUITABLE FOR: All

ADDA's mission is to promote and enhance knowledge, understanding and practice of dance styles that fall under the African Diaspora.

ADDA focuses on the dance techniques and genres that have played a fundamental role in carving the cultural imprint of the African Diaspora globally. They aim to highlight how social, political, racial and cultural changes can be expressed through music, theatre and social dances.

ADDA intends to expand its dance curriculum within schools and higher education facilities to include their Core Techniques, ensuring that all dance students, regardless of race or gender, can have access to a broad and solid foundation of training. Their mission is to enable students to be fully equipped to embark on a fulfilled career in their chosen fields in the dance community.
